INDICTMENTS ARE RETURNED

Small Batch Brought Into Court Last Saturday Morning.

ONE WAS FOR RAPE.

Commonwealth Docket Will Be Taken Up Next Monday.

Very little business of much importance to the general public has been disposed of in Circuit Court this week, most of the time having been taken up in the trial of common law matters. A few commonwealth cases, however, were passed upon.

The case of the commonwealth against Clint Pitzer, charged with disturbing a lawful assemblage, was called Saturday. The charge was reduced to breach of the peace, and the defendant was fined $10 and costs.

John Wilson, charged with a similar offense, was fined $10 and costs. He entered a plea of guilty of breach of the peace.

John Chambers, under an indictment for carrying a concealed deadly weapon, was fined $20 and costs.

The grand jury returned indictments as follows: Bob Simms, rape; Joe Springfield and Charlie Layne, malicious shooting. One party, not in custody, was indicted for petit larceny. All the parties indicted are negroes.

The suit of John O. Chafin against T. D. and Minnie Rudd resulted in a verdict for defendants.

The jury in the case of Melissa A. Claiborne against John Davis returned a verdict for defendant.

The jury, under peremptory instructions from the court, found for the defendant in the suit of R. E. Hudson and others against M. V. Donnell and others.

The grand jury, after investigating the case of Minor Rollins, charged with house breaking, returned the papers indorsed "dismissed." An order was made to the Court releasing Rollins from jail.

Geo. McKinney, charged with shooting and wounding in sudden affray, entered a plea of guilty, and a fine of $50 and costs was assessed.

John W. Ford and T. M. Broodie were on Saturday excused from further service as petit jurors at this term. R. C. Chilton and A. E. P. Pool were also excused from further service as grand jurors at the present term.

The grand jury, having reported that it had further business before it was continued another week.

The rest of the week will be taken up in hearing common law cases. On next Monday the commonwealth docket will be called. The murder cases of John Cheaney and Gene Duffy, col., are set for the first of the week.

BRASHER-RICE.

Popular Teacher Weds Nashville Druggist.

Miss Daisy Rice and Mr. Watterson Brasher were married Friday evening at the home of the groom's brother, Mr. John L. Brasher. The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. C. Biddle, only a few friends being present. Mr. Brasher is a young druggist of Nashville, well known in this city. His bride has for several years been a popular teacher in the city schools and the withdrawal of her application was the first intimation of the wedding, which occurred the same evening the election of teachers took place. Mr. and Mrs. Brasher at once left for their future home in Nashville.

Mr. J. B. Lander and mother, Mrs. Kate Lander, went to Louisville, Ky., to see the horse show.

CLOSE CALL FOR HIS LIFE.

Esq. Joe Turner Victim of a Serious Accident Yesterday.

HIT BY A LOOSE HORSE.

Sustained Fracture of Several Ribs and Was Otherwise Injured.

Mr. Joseph F. Turner, who resides on West Seventh street, was the victim of a serious accident yesterday morning.

Mr. Turner had been over into the city and was returning home, when he was struck by a horse which had made its escape from a livery stable.

Mr. Turner was walking upon the sidewalk, viewing some work being done on a house, and did not see the animal until he was almost upon him. He quickly turned to one side, in an effort to avoid a collision, but was struck by the horse and knocked several feet. His head struck the pavement and was badly cut and bruised. In addition to this, Mr. Turner sustained a fracture of three ribs on his left side.

Several surgeons were on hand in a very few minutes and the victim of the accident was quickly removed to his home, where an examination of his injuries was made and the necessary aid rendered.

Mr. Turner was rendered unconscious for several minutes after the accident, but yesterday afternoon he was resting as comfortably as could be expected under the circumstances. Unless other complications arise he will get well, though his recovery will necessarily be very slow.

HOME COMING.

Kentucky's Greatest Week Has Begun.

All roads, in the state and out of it, lead to Louisville. Home Comers have been pouring into Kentucky for several days, and by the time the limit for selling round-trip tickets has passed Louisville will be taxed to her uttermost to entertain them. It has been estimated that 90,000 to 100,000 guests will be within her gates, but the metropolis is spreading herself and her people declare themselves equal to the occasion. Entertainments galore have been prepared and nothing has been left undone to make Home-Coming Week the greatest in the modern history of the State.

Hopkinsville will send a large number of people to the Falls City. Mr. Geo. E. Gary and his assistant will be prepared to take care of them if they will report promptly on arrival.

McKEAGE-SETTLE.

Chicago Man and Clarksville Woman to Wed.

Invitations have been received by Hopkinsville friends to the marriage of Miss Maggie Settle, of Clarksville, Tenn., to John Owen McKeage, of Chicago. Thursday afternoon, June 14, Owing to recent bereavements the marriage will be very quiet. Immediately after the ceremony the bride and groom will leave for a month's stay in the East, visiting friends and relatives and places of interest.

INJURED IN RUNAWAY.

While Mrs. D. I. Smith, of Pembroke, accompanied by her niece, who was on a visit to her, were out driving Friday afternoon, the horse became unmanageable and ran off. Both ladies were thrown out of the vehicle and sustained very painful injuries. Though no horse was hurt, the accident was a serious one.

FORMERLY MRS. BRYAN

MR. JOHN B. TRICE

And Lived in This City For Awhile Last Year.

Underwent Operation For Appendicitis Yesterday.

Evansville, Ind., June 9.—Mrs. Bessie Maley, well-known in Nashville, has been granted a divorce from Chas. E. Maley, a well-known lumber man of this city.

Last Monday Maley filed a suit for divorce while Mrs. Maley, it is understood, was in Nashville. She returned here and entered a cross complaint and was given the decree. She was awarded $2,500 alimony, although she asked for $10,000.

Mrs. Maley was formerly Miss Bessie Remington, daughter of a millionaire of Tacoma, Wash. Her first husband was named Bryan, and he is a telephone inspector at Nashville. A year or so ago Bryan and his wife spent the summer in Evansville, where Bryan had business with the Cumberland Telephone Company. Mrs. Bryan then met Maley for the first time. She afterwards obtained a divorce from Bryan and last November, at Columbus, Ind., was secretly married to Maley. The marriage was not made public until last month, when Maley and his wife came to this city to reside. The Maley family is one of the most prominent in Southern Indiana and is wealthy.

Mrs. Maley alleged in her cross complaint that her husband was cruel and inhuman to her, called her vile names and often threatened her with bodily harm. She also alleged that he refused to let friends call at the house to see her. Mrs. Maley's sister from Tacoma, Wash., is here and it is understood that Mrs. Maley will go to Tacoma to make her future home. She is a beautiful woman with brown eyes and a mass of brown hair.

CHURCH WORKERS.

Meeting of Woman's Missionary Society.

The twenty-seventh annual convention of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the Methodist church for the Louisville conference is being held in Henderson, Miss. Katie McDaniel, of this city, is secretary of the society. Miss Nettie Royster, of Henderson, delivered the welcome address. Mrs. Geo. Foster, of Morgantown, is presiding over the convention.

Ice Short.

The supply of ice was short of the demand Saturday and in consequence the meat men were compelled to make their deliveries Sunday morning. Mr. Ellis, the manager of the ice plant, was telephoned yesterday morning as to the outlook for this week, and he said he had the situation well in hand and thought there would be no trouble in meeting the demand.

The many friends of Mr. John B. Trice, cashier of the Planters' Bank & Trust Co., will deeply regret to learn of his serious illness. Friday he was unable to be at the bank and later developments showed that he was the victim of acute appendicitis. Yesterday morning he had not improved any, and Dr. Douglass, of Nashville, was called and made a most successful operation. While Mr. Trice's case is not hopeless, he is in a critical condition. The best results from a successful operation are hoped for by his physician, but until a change for the better is manifested Mr. Trice's friends can only hope that his life may be spared. Dr. Douglass remained in the city until yesterday afternoon.

Notes On Eggs.

WITH the speedy approach of warm weather eggs are becoming very plentiful, and as a consequence cheap. It stands to reason therefore, that if it is possible to keep them in good condition from the plentiful to the scarce season a considerable amount of profit may be effected. It is as well, however, to state at the very outset, that by no method of preservation yet introduced, are we enabled to retain the freshness of flavor equal to new laid. For cooking or manufacturing purposes they are excellent, and there is always a good demand for them. I know a woman living in the north of England who, a few years ago, preserved about 20,000 eggs during April and May, when eggs were selling at 18 to 20 for 25 cents, kept them for six or seven months, and then retailed them as "pickled" eggs at two cents each. There are several excellent methods of preserving eggs, between which there is little to choose, but the point of paramount importance is not so much the actual method employed, but that the eggs are perfectly fresh when put down into the liquid. It is unwise to attempt preserving them until twelve hours have elapsed after they have been laid, but as soon after this as possible they should be attended to. It is useless trying to preserve an egg that is three or four days old, as by this time its first freshness has departed. Another point to bear in mind with preserved eggs is, that they should be used as quickly as possible after removing from the source of preservation, because a pickled or preserved egg goes bad much more speedily than does one that is new laid. Experiments have proved that infertile eggs preserve better than those containing the germ of life, and thus when eggs are being produced with preservation in view, no male bird should be run with the hens.

The methods of preserving eggs commonly employed are legion, but here are three that possess certain advantages, and that can be confidently recommended. The very best method is by means of cold storage, and whenever one is living near a plant, the wisest plan is to send his eggs thither. A charge is usually made for storage room, but this is quite small, and probably works out cheaper than adopting one of the other methods. We, in England, are not nearly as fortunate in the matter of cold storage as are our good cousins in the States, as such places are only to be found in our large cities. The eggs should not be actually frozen, as this is liable to crack them, but they should be merely chilled. Eggs preserved in this fashion retain a good deal of their original flavor, and when they have been carefully chilled by an experienced person their quality has but slightly deteriorated.

The most ancient method of preservation, and still one of the most effective, is by means of a solution

EVER WATCHFUL

A Little Care Will Save Many Hopkinsville Readers Future Trouble.

Watch the kidney secretions. See that they have the amber hue of health; The discharges not excessive or infrequent; Do not contain any "brick-dust like" sediment.

Doan's Kidney Pills will do this for you. They watch the kidneys and cure them when they're sick. Hopkinsville testimony proves it. J. W. Tunks, of 312 W. Seventh St., who is employed at M. C. Forbes' planing mill, says: "The condition of my health was such as to cause me a great deal of worry about my future. I had an almost constant aching across the small of my back and the kidney secretion were highly colored, excessive and irregular, in fact, the disorder was so pronounced that it had been said it bordered on diabetes. I also suffered at times with indigestion which caused me a great deal of distress. At one time I was scarcely able to do any work at all for nearly a year. I doctored and tried various remedies but nothing did me any permanent good until I used Doan's Kidney Pills, which I procured from A. Johnson's drug store. I had them only a few days when I noticed a change for the better and by the time I had finished the box I was well. I had brought about so decided an improvement in my condition as to convince me of their real worth and I am more than thankful for the relief that I have received."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50c. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Unknown Friends.

There are many people who have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, with almost immediate results, but who are unknown because they have neglected giving a testimonial of their experience for publication. These people, however, are none the less friends of this remedy. They have done much toward making it a household word by their personal recommendations to friends and neighbors. It is a good medicine to have in the home and is widely known for its cure of diarrhoea and all forms of bowel trouble. Sold by L. L. Elgin and Anderson & Fowler, the up-to-date druggists of Hopkinsville.

of lime, salt and water. A preparation consisting of 20 gallons of water, 4 gallons of lime, and 1 gallon of salt is made, and allowed to stand for a few hours, so that the sediment can settle to the bottom. The clear liquid only is used, which is poured over the eggs, the latter having first been placed in a suitable vessel. A little lime should be added from time to time; or, a better plan is to stretch some butter muslin over the top of the vessel, allowing the center to dip into the liquid, with a little lime resting thereupon. Then as the lime in the liquid becomes exhausted a little is taken into solution. One advantage of this method is that a few eggs can be added each day as laid, and the whole batch need not be put down together, thus assisting in assuring absolute freshness. Eggs preserved in lime can be easily distinguished, as the shells become rough and extremely brittle. A method of more recent introduction is by means of soluble silicate of soda, commonly called waterglass, which has the advantage over the lime method in that it retains the smooth surface of the shell. Waterglass is not expensive, but costs a little more than the lime and salt. Other methods of preserving that may be mentioned, but which it is unnecessary to describe, are—dipping into boiling water, thus slightly coagulating the white; packing in common salt; smearing with butter or fat of some description; and packing in bran. These are methods that can be recommended when the eggs are merely for home use, and not for market purposes.

To Determine the Age of an Egg.

An excellent system of testing eggs for freshness is by means of the size of the air space. Some of the large dairies in London test every egg that leaves their establishment in this fashion, thus insuring that stale egg is ever disposed of as new laid. The egg is held before the light in a dark room, and is so placed that all the light that comes to the eye must come through the egg. A candle answers the purpose well, although there are several excellent lamps on the market, which greatly simplify the process, and which while effective, are quite inexpensive. In a new laid egg the air space is exceedingly small, but it gradually increases in size as the egg becomes older, until when it is three weeks old it occupies about one-eighth of the contents. A variation of this method is by means of placing the eggs in a basin containing a mixture of salt and water, in the proportion of four ounces of salt and one and three-quarter pints of water. A new laid egg if placed in the liquid will sink; an egg one day old will not quite reach the bottom; one three days old will swim midway, while one that is older will float up on the surface. As age increases the egg is more out of the water, and with a little practice its exact age can be determined. When dealing with any quantity of eggs, however, the former entails considerably less labor, and is perhaps rather more effective.

Late Hatched Chickens.

"June hatched chicks sleep themselves to death," is a hoary old lie that has been senselessly repeated so often that the majority of people believe it without taking the trouble to investigate.

A lousy chick will "sleep" all right and live as a little more prevalent in June than May. That's all there is to it. There are many reasons why thoroughbred chicks should be hatched out in June and July. They are really much easier reared then, than in March or April. Just watch the lice. We sell eggs after June 1, at half price and they are, usually, more fertile. Bugs are more abundant then. The chicks can be sheltered in any old place. A hen can care for a larger brood.

Some breeds, especially the buffs, mature with more perfect plumage. It is true the pullets do not make such winter layers, but in the fancy, we are after the spring layers.

On account of quick feathering and early maturity, the Leghorns do quite well when late hatched. We hatched some August Buff Orpingtons which developed into fine specimens. Our best cockerel, a $50 bird, was of this lot. We would not advise the hatching of mongrel chicks, so late—or at any other time, for that matter.

We would advise that some shade be provided to shelter the little ones from the fierce rays of a July and August sun. It would be well to keep the hen confined in a slatted front coop, if shade was not abundant, until the middle of the afternoon. Then she would not expose them to the hot sun for the entire day. The little ones could come and go, at will, seeking the shelter of the coop, if they so desired.

Many a promising pullet "falls down" before mating time, and then the late hatched ones are doubly appreciated. Don't forget to hatch late.—W. E. Damon in Nashville American.

A Happy Mother

will see that her baby is properly cared for—to do this a good, nutritious is necessary. Many babies suffer from worms and their mothers don't know it—if your baby is feverish and doesn't sleep at night, it is troubled with worms. White's Cream Vermifuge will clean out these worms in a mild pleasant way. Once tried always used. Give it a trial. Price 25 cents. Sold by Cook & Higgins.

Eggs Much Alike.

The white of an egg is nearly seven-eighths water, the balance being pure albumen. The yolk is slightly less than one-half water. These figures apply approximately to the eggs of turkeys, hens, geese, ducks and guinea fowls.

To show how nearly alike the eggs of various domestic fowls are in respect to composition, the following figures are given by the Department of Agriculture—

Hen's egg—50 per cent water, 16 per cent "protein." 33 per cent fat.

Duck's egg—46 per cent water, 17 per cent "protein." 36 per cent fat.

Turkey's egg—43 per cent water, 18 per cent "protein." 38 per cent fat.

It should be explained that "protein," is the stuff that goes to make muscle and blood. Fat of course is fuel for running the body machine. Thus it will be seen that eggs though half or nearly half, water, are extremely nutritious, containing all the elements required for the building and support of the human body. But the old saying that an egg contains as much nutriment as a pound of beefsteak is far from correct. It would be nearer the fact to estimate a pound of eggs as equal to a pound of beefsteak in nourishing power.—F. H. Journal.

There Are Few

people who know how to take care of themselves—the majority do not. The liver is a most important organ in the body. Herbine will keep it in the condition. V. C. Simpkins, Albia, Texas, writes: "I have used Herbine for chills and fever and find it the best medicine I ever used. I would not be without it. It is as good for children as it is for grown up people, and I recommend it. It is fine for grippe." Sold by Cook & Higgins.

Dust Bath for Sitting Hens.

Did you ever let off a batch of sitting hens and watch their frantic efforts to find a place to bathe in? They like their daily bath just as much as you enjoy your morning wash and hair comb. Provide them with one; let it be in a box that is raised above the ground so that it will not get filled with litter, and make it large enough so that two or three of the hens can bathe at once. The box is best filled with ashes if the roof does not leak and get them wet. Provide this and then if your nest boxes are clean, if you have insect powder, you have put tobacco leaves in the bottom of the nest you may bank on the fact that your hens will neither be driven from their nest by lice nor be devoured by vermin.—Poultry life.

The Weather.

For Kentucky—Partly cloudy, with moderate temperature Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Nick Longworth are now abroad, hobnobbing with royalty. They are now in London.

Mr. Benj. Bosworth, father of State Treasurer H. M. Bosworth, died Sunday, aged 72 years.

The Courier-Journal says the "lid" was on in Louisville only nominally Sunday and any one who wanted a drink could find it.

Forty thousand people attended the dedication of a Christian Scientist temple in Boston Sunday, that cost $2,000,000.

Senator Blackburn has been chosen minority leader in the Senate, to succeed the late Senator Gorman.

The Democratic State conventions of Arkansas, Missouri, South Dakota and Indiana have endorsed Bryan for President in 1908.

Henry B. Hines and Harry V. McChesney are both announced candidates for Auditor. Morgan Chinn and Henry M. Bosworth are also expected to enter the race.

Judge George DuRelle, of Louisville, has been appointed District Attorney to succeed R. D. Hill and Horace Jolly, of Owensboro, will be his assistant.

Oregon did herself proud by electing her Democratic governor, Geo. E. Chamberlain, the brainy young fellow whom the Republicans claimed got in accidentally two years ago. For a state in which Parker got only 19 per cent. of the total vote, this is doing pretty well.

F. D. Coburn declined the Kansas senatorship and Judge Alfred Waterson Benson, to whom it was tendered Saturday, has accepted the honor. The term expires March 4, 1907. He succeeds Burton, the grafter who was forced to resign.

Hon. Wm. P. Whyte, former senator and former governor, has been appointed senator from Maryland, to succeed Senator Gorman. He is 82 years old and was Gorman's immediate predecessor in the senate. He announces that he will not be a candidate for election.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. E. Gary, Mrs. A. B. Anderson and Miss Bet Ware left for Louisville last night to attend the Home-Coming. Mr. Gary is Commissioner for Christian county, Mrs. Anderson is hostess and Miss Ware is her maid of honor. Quite a number of Hopkinsville people will go to-day and to-morrow.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O. Sold by druggists, 75 cents. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Remove it, give new life, new courage, strength and animation. They cleanse the blood and clear the complexion.

Adopt no substitute. If it fails first try this and you'll not sleep. After taking Hood's Sarsaparilla a while I could sleep well and the tired feeling had gone. This great medicine has also cured me of eczema." Mrs. C. M. Moor, Gillet, Conn.

BOOM FOR CRENSHAW.

Christian County Man For Agricultural Commissioner

Hon. R. C. Crenshaw, of Christian county, now deputy commissioner under Hubert Vreeland, is now a candidate for Commissioner of Agriculture. Mr. Crenshaw is a high-class man and a practical farmer. He is a good man for the place.—Murray Ledger.

Trusted Leader.

Senator R. C. Crenshaw, of Christian county, is being urged by many friends over the State to become a candidate for Commissioner of Agriculture, subject to the action of the Democratic party, and the probability is that the Senator will yield to their wishes and soon announce himself a candidate for the position. For the past four years Senator Crenshaw has held the position in the office as chief deputy under Commissioner Vreeland, and the State never had a better official. He is an experienced farmer, and one of the best informed men on all questions in the State. He was a member of the Kentucky Senate during the trying scenes at Frankfort which culminated in the murder of Gov. Goebel, and was one of the party's most faithful and trusted leaders.—Cadiz Record.

Life!!!

The poet's exclamation: "O Life! I feel thee bounding in my veins." Is a joyous one. Persons that can rarely or never make it, in honesty to themselves, are among the most unfortunate. They do not live, but exist; for to live implies more than to be. To live is to be well and strong—to arise feeling equal to the ordinary duties of the day, and to retire not overcome by them—to feel life bounding in the veins. A medicine that has made thousands of people, men and women, well and strong, has accomplished a great work, bestowing the richest blessings, and that medicine is Hood's Sarsaparilla. The weak, run-down, or debilitated, from any cause, should not fail to take it. It builds up the whole system, changes existence into life, and makes life more abundant. We are glad to say these words in its favor to the readers of our columns.

GAINES' PUN

Worse Than Cows On the Streets.

Mayor C. M. Meacham, of Hopkinsville, was presented by the city council last week with a gravel made from a cow's horn. This was a compliment to the mayor for his fight against allowing the bovines to run loose on the streets. It was a cowardly act on the part of the council, however.—Elkton Progress.

OLD SHANKS

Is Hot After the Association's Enemies in Clarksville.

Stirring Appeal to the Members of the Tobacco Growers' Association.

In the Leaf-Chronicle of 22d ult. there appeared a lengthy article in reference to plantbed scraping. Now, I presume this article is from the pen of M. V. Ingram, and as treachery is not enough, he must add insult to injury, by now trying to pose as a friend of the association and assume the role of a great stickler for law and order. Now, you and I would be inclined to give him a hearing, if he would first prove himself a stickler for common decency. As he has outraged decency to such an extent that scarcely a baker's dozen of our members read his paper, and he certainly is not entitled to any consideration or sympathy from any friend of the Association.

This old traitor and hypocrite seeks to convey the impression that Mr. Ewing and our leaders are in favor of lawlessness, which is an infamous misrepresentation and you all know it. All the poisoned arrows that he can shoot at the character of Mr. Ewing and our leaders will fall harmless at its base. Neither are our members inclined to lawlessness, and the man who makes the charge is a defamer of character of the deepest dye.

I presume that the opinions and feelings of the members here are a fair exponent of the opinions and feelings of the members elsewhere, and that is, opposition to lawlessness, so we see that the Association cannot be held responsible for acts of irresponsible parties either in or out of the Association. The scraping of plant beds is the result of certain conditions. What were the conditions that produced it? The tobacco trust and its agents came into this country and divided it up into districts and cut off all competition in buying, had the people herded together like so many cattle, and took their tobacco at such a low and ruinous price, that it amounted to confiscation and highway robbery; after these pirates had produced at most a famine in the land our people were driven into this organization for protection.

Instead of giving it a fair chance and a clear field what did they do? Sought every unfair means ingenuity could invent to break the backbone of the organization. After having seen that the organization was a go, in the space of a few short months they raised the price of tobacco from 4 and 2 to 12 and 2, in order to tempt as many of our people as possible from going into the Association. We went to them and begged them to desist; instead of stopping, they issued their cards of defiance, and set up their arsenals and surrounded themselves with fast shooting guns.

These conditions have prevailed here for nearly a year, to the present time; recently there has been some plant beds scraped, these agents and their sympathizers hold up their hands in holy horror, and complain to the Association and try to put all the blame on it. No good man justifies any acts of lawlessness, our people are as free from it as any people under the sun. When you consider how the trust came here and created conditions that produced a blight and curse to the whole tobacco district, I think all fair minded men will be disposed to place the responsibility for plant bed scraping where it belongs. Let Ingram turn Pinkerton or Sherlock Holmes loose and run the guilty parties to shore, the way is open, I am sure we are willing. I want to say to the Tobacco Trust, in the language of Nathan to David, "Thou art the man."

grinding of teeth of our ancestors; their foundation has crumbled from beneath them, and the truth is gone glimmering where the woodbine twines. I suggest that they buy them an incubator and go into the poultry business or seek greener pastures somewhere else. A tobacco buyer without a job! Poor old octopus, your tentacles are cut off. Thank the Lord, we tobacco planters are all going down the road together, singing that good old song, "Shout, Shout, we Are Gaining ground."

These late additions are our kinkos and neighbors. We are going to nurture and love them, we have no reproaches and ridicule for them. Let our treatment of these new members spring from generous hearts, everywhere. It is cowardly to humiliate them with jibes and sneers and reproaches. Don't do it. Throw your arms around them and let us be one band of brothers, standing together. We can be invincible and can snap our fingers in the face of any Trust, that can be formed. Thank the Lord, the scepter has been snatched from tyrants' hands, now ring the bell of liberty and proclaim that freedom has come to slaves.

We have demonstrated that tobacco can sell for $14 per hundred. Let us stand shoulder to shoulder and elbow to elbow and make this Association a blessing to the people and bring prosperity to all the land, and if it does not bring that about, after a fair chance, we will smash it into smithereens and try something else, for we just simply will not be robbed of our labor like we have been. Strike the word "hill-billie" from our vocabulary as we do not seem to have any, now. Give our new members a hearty welcome and a cordial hand-shake. I am so glad that I just want to hug every one of them.

Noted Lecturer.

Prof. Wm. Lee Popham will appear at the Union Tabernacle in his great lecture, entitled "This, That and the Other, One Thing and Another," to-night.

It has been said of this address: "This lecture is clothed in thoughts that breathe and words that burn." This great subject embraces the thoughts dearest to morals given and touches the tender cords of the human heart as no other theme that has fallen from an orator's lips.

No words are so dear to the hearts of the American people and nothing in all the world can be substituted for the beautiful sentiments of the lecture.

His tribute to "mother" is a prose poem, of sublimest eloquence. Do not fail to hear him.

J. T. WALL & CO. New York Life.

Hopkinsville, Ky., April 30th, 1906.

Mr. Walter F. Garnett, Agent, New York Life Insurance Co., City.
Dear Sir:—It gives me pleasure to acknowledge receipt of statement of optional settlement on 20-Payment Life Policy, No. 223,593, for $1,500.00, issued at age 35, with premium of $32.50, taken out with you Apr. 23, '86. After having been insured for 20 years, I am offered a paid up policy for $1,500 and a cash dividend of $406.88, or the total value may be withdrawn in cash—$1,215.88, (which is more than I have paid in the 20 years) or a fully paid up policy payable at my death for $2,219.00. The cash settlement of $1,215.85 is equal to Term Insurance at $12.87 per $1,000 and an investment of the balance of premiums with 54 per cent. compound interest for twenty years. This showing is certainly a creditable one for the New York Life, and I will be pleased to give you my application for $1,000 on the Ordinary Life plan.

Yours very truly, C. E. WEST.

Be wary of the man who suggests the use of paint already prepared. He cannot know the ingredients of such mixture. First-class painting can only be had by the use of paint which contains nothing but Pure White Lead and Pure Linseed Oil colored to the desired shade. Specify mixed with Pure Linseed Oil, and see that your painter uses it. It spreads easily and uniformly, forming an elastic coat that immediately becomes a part of the wood itself. It will not crack or peel as do adulterated paints. This means attractive appearance and perfect protection through all the long years of life. When it does wear, it wears away uniformly, and when the painter is called upon again, he finds the surface all ready for him without recourse to sanding and "burning off." ### A Plea For Thoroughbreds.

We know of no disease more contagious than the "chicken fever" and this perhaps partly accounts for the rapid spread and development of the poultry industry. $280,000,000 output from poultry alone is enormous and far exceeds any other single industry, but the demand for it increases accordingly for these products.

The hatching season is here again and I appeal to farmers in behalf of thoroughbred fowls, feeling certain that they would be satisfied with nothing else if their merit and real value were only understood. I write from the standpoint of a farmer instead of a fancier, and remember it would take a long time to find a farmer that it would be easy to convince of the merits of scrub hogs, or cattle over the thoroughbreds.

Then why should he overlook the importance of thoroughbred fowls?

Still this is done repeatedly and you will be surprised in looking over the farms of this great commonwealth to see how few flocks there are of large-size productive, uniformly beautiful and well-bred birds; and at the immense number of mongrels still in existence.

Why this is I cannot understand for in this wonderfully progressive age every farmer knows who is a board the car of Progress, just how many pounds a bushel of corn should add to his Poland China or Chester White hogs and he knows to that the same amount of feed will not produce as good results in the "razor back."

The same rule applies to poultry. It costs no more to raise a fowl that will weigh 7 to 10 pounds at maturity and lay 150 eggs the first laying year than one of those little dwarf under-sized mongrels that lay a few eggs each season.

The house you have built for your scrubs will do just as well for thoroughbreds and your time is actually worth more when caring for thoroughbreds, for time and feed here are more rapidly turned into cash.

I think I know wherof I speak for I have raised both kinds and it is with no feeling of pride that I admit it.

However, the mongrel days with me have long gone by and I believe I never made a better investment than when I purchased 50 Black Langshan eggs some 8 years ago, nor spent time to better advantage than in carefully rearing the 43 chicks hatched therefrom. Although a stray cat (peace to her ashes) helped herself liberally to part of this flock still the remainder furnished the foundation for my present flock and the surplus cockerels sold, about 3 times paid for the eggs.

I have no fears of the thoroughbred poultry business being overdone any more than of other farm stock and if you can not sell your stock for breeders there is always a market for chickens and eggs of first class quality that yields us a profit. It is such an easy matter to get started with thoroughbred fowls and the profits so much more satisfactory that it looks to me like poor policy to waste good time, money and feed on anything else.

Scaly Legs.

If you would be rid of scaly legs in your flocks, do not use for hatching any hens that are troubled with the disease. Nothing spreads this contagion so readily as does the mother hen over a young brood. Scaly leg is extremely difficult to be rid of when once it has a foothold among the fowls. The only way to be rid of it, after once it has gained a hold either kill and send to market all afflicted with the disease, or else soak the shanks thoroughly for many days with kerosene oil, clean them and wash them off with a stiff brush and strong soap and hot water, and then anoint with a solution composed of one-half alcohol and one-half sweet oil.

Continue this treatment until the scale has all been removed and the shanks healed up. The painting of the roots with a liquid lice-killer destroys the little mite that causes the formation upon the legs.—Feather.

A LIGHTHOUSE TALE

WARNING OF INTERNATIONAL
FLAG-CODE OBSERVED.

Keeper and His Wife Must Be De-seized in Lighthouse Tower—
Armed Crew Bent Out—The Explanation.

"Waiting Lighthouse Synt N. J.," reported the watch on board the mail steamer bound to Kingston, Jamaica.

The senior officer turned his telescope towards the perpendicular streak on the horizon.

"Help, I am attacked," flattered plainly the international flag-code, in the letters N. J.

The senior officer reported the occurrence to the captain.

What did it mean? Had the blacks risen against the handful of white men? The doctor found scores and hundreds of women who were being improperly treated because their troubles were not understood, and he determined to place this remedy that he had used so successfully with relief of the multitudes who were in such sore need of it.

HE CALLED AWAY A BOAT'S CREW ARMED WITH WHATEVER WEAPONS THEY COULD LAY HANDS ON.

men that lived on the island? Was the lighthouse-keeper besieged?

N. J. clearly gave rise to the gravest

"Shall the boat put back?" asked the senior officer.

The captain refused. His majesty's mails were on board. The vessel must wait for nothing. So full steam ahead she plowed her way to Kingston.

"N. J. from Watling light!" blazed the excited officials at the harbor. Clearly a native uprising.

The news spread. The keeper of Watling light and his wife were besieged in his tower. Help must be sent.

A hurried message was dispatched to Nassau, the headquarters of the Bahamas Lighthouse Service. A few hours later a government steamer, bearing an armed crew, made furiously towards the Watling light.

The morning following the arrival of the news a schooner, outward bound from Portland, Me., arrived at Nassau Harbor.

"Had she news of Watling light?" inquired the excited officials. "Was N. J. still flying when the schooner passed?"

"Yes," was the captain of the schooner informed them. Then he told this story:

He, too, had seen the signal, and he, too, the captain of the mail steamer, he had instantly surmised that the natives had rebelled.

Having to within a mile of the lighthouse, he called away a boat's crew, armed with whatever weapons they could lay hands on.

No enemy appeared to oppose their landing on the island. Yet there, not 200 yards from them, flattered the dread N. J.

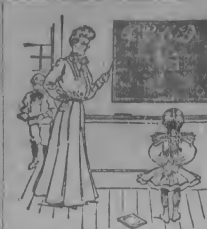

Leaving a few of his men to guard the boat, the captain advanced with the rest towards the lighthouse. Not a native could they see, but each man gripped his weapon ready at any moment to meet a sudden onslaught of the enemy.

Yet nothing happened. The lighthouse door opened, and the keeper stood bidding them before them.

"Come in, my friends," he greeted. "Come in and drink with me."

"What's N. J. flying for, Jones?" inquired the captain.

"Why, Nathaniel Jones, of course," replied the keeper, with mild surprise. "Don't you know, he was born last Wednesday. He's my first youngster. Come in and drink his health!"

THE FIRST LETTER A Woman Writes.

THE FIRST LETTER that a sick woman should write or have some one write for her is to Dr. Pierce of Buffalo, N. Y., asking him if "FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION" is suitable for her case, and he will frankly tell her so if he thinks it is. He may have to ask some questions before he can be sure just what the trouble is.

If you are suffering from uterine disease, the symptoms of which are headache, backache, dizziness, pain in various parts of the body, especially in the pelvic region, bearing-down, inflammation, ulceration, then Dr. Pierce will advise you to use his "FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION" for he has had a wonderful experience in the use of this remedy. It is not a PATENT MEDICINE but it is a VERIFIABLE PRESCRIPTION that became his "favorite" when he was engaged in private practice forty years ago and found that it cured more than ninety-eight out of every hundred of all such cases that came under his care.

The doctor found scores and hundreds of women who were being improperly treated because their troubles were not understood, and he determined to place this remedy that he had used so successfully with relief of the multitudes who were in such sore need of it.

He made it efficient, agreeable to taste, and, best of all, safe for any woman.

It is a VERIFIABLE PRESCRIPTION that became his "favorite" when he was engaged in private practice forty years ago and found that it cured more than ninety-eight out of every hundred of all such cases that came under his care.

Southwest

The Land of BIG CROPS and PROSPERITY.

Are you making as much off your farm as you ought? No doubt you are making all you can. The trouble is the land costs too much. It takes too much money to buy a big farm, and you are trying to make a living on a small farm, or perhaps you are renting one and paying a good share of what you raise, in rent. Wouldn't it be better to go where the price of good land is so little that you can own a big farm—where every acre of the ground is working for you and all you raise is paying you good profits?

There are thousands of acres of fertile land in the Southwest along the line of the Cotton Belt Route that can be bought for from $3 to $10 an acre. This land is increasing in value each year.

See the Southwest at Small Cost.

A trip to the Southwest would cost nothing. The trip can be made at very little expense. On the first and last days of each month you can purchase a round trip ticket to any point in the Southwest on or via the Cotton Belt Route at very low rates. The ticket will be valid for 30 days, and you can examine any locality you are interested in and get full information about the land before you decide to buy.

Write at once for leaflets or book describing this wonderful country. L. C. Barry, T. P. A., Cotton Belt Route, 82 Todd Bldg., Louisville, Ky.

New Breed of Ducks.

The newest breeds of ducks not yet known to the public are the Blue Orpington and the Buff Orpington. They were produced by William Cook of England, the originator of the several varieties of Orpington fowls, the Blue variety in 1896 and the Buff the year following. They are thus described in the Orpington Poultry Journal.

The Blue Orpington is a very large duck, quick in maturing, rood layers of immense eggs. The color is slate similar to an Andalusian fowl. They have proved a wonderful good table bird. Of course, only the best specimens are absolutely blue all over, some having a small patch of white on the chest, which looks rather pretty when they are swimming, so much so that many people breed them with these white chests. Sometimes a little bit of brown is seen in them. The drakes are a little larger and have the head and neck a darker color than the ducks. These ducks do well in confinement and do not need water to swim in. They are enormous in size, being a good deal larger than Pekins and growing quicker.

The beak of the Blue Orpington is dark in color with a trifle yellow tinge. Legs dark orange. The back is a nice blue and underneath rather a lighter slate for the ground color. The ducks should be blue all over, but penciled on the back. The carriage of the bird is much the same as an Aylesbury duck, with a long body close to the ground.

The Buff Orpington duck is not quite so bright in color as the Buff Orpington fowl, being more of a khaki color only not so dull. It is an improvement on the Indian Runner, as they are very much larger and more uniform in shape and a self color. They make a fine table bird and their eggs are larger; they are no doubt the best utility duck in the world for laying and table purposes besides having a very handsome appearance.—A. P. Advocate.

Bumble Foot.

Bumble foot is an enlargement of the feet of fowls, and is generally caused by bruises due to the fowls alighting heavily when they fly down from their perches. The trouble occurs most frequently with heavy birds which generally have poor powers of flight when their weight is compared to that of their wing power. The lighter fowls, having more flying power, light easily, and their feet are not bruised. When heavy fowls are permitted to perch high, it is a common thing to see them come down from their roosts, light on their feet and tumble over. The alighting is often accompanied by a hard thump. This is the prevailing cause of bumble foot.

The results of such bruises are swellings in which pus develops. If these swellings are lanced and the pus escapes, the feet retain their normal size. If the pus is not permitted to escape it ultimately forms a cheesy mass and the enlargement is permanent. The way to prevent it is to place the roosts low and have the floor covered with litter. This makes it possible for the fowls to come down off the roosts without sustaining bruises.—Poultry Life.

Ancient Rome

is now merely a memory of the past. Ballard's Snow Liniment is the family liniment of the twentieth century. A positive cure for rheumatism, burns, cuts, sprains, neuralgia, etc. Mr. C. H. Runyon, Stanley, Mo., writes: "I have used Snow Liniment for rheumatism and all pain. I can't say enough in its praise." Sold by Cook & Higgins.

Move the brood coops often. The ground becomes filthy if the coops are allowed to remain in any one place very long. Remove them at least once a week.

If your stomach troubles you do not conclude that there is no cure, for a great many have been permanently cured by Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. Try them, they are certain to prove beneficial. They only cost a quarter. Sold by L. L. Elgin and Anderson & Fowler, up-to-date druggists at Hopkinsville.

How to Break Up a Cold.

It may be a surprise to many to learn that a severe cold can be completely broken up in one or two days' time. To do this, however, prompt action is necessary. The first symptom of a cold is a dry, loud cough, a profuse watery discharge from the nose, and a thin, white coating on the tongue. When Chamberlain's cough remedy is taken every hour on the first appearance of the symptoms, it counteracts the effect of the cold and restores the system to a healthy condition within a day or two. For sale by L. L. Elgin and Anderson & Fowler, up-to-date druggists at Hopkinsville.

Sore Muscles.

Prominent athletes throughout the country find that the best treatment for sore muscles after severe exercise or hard work of any kind, is a hot bath at bed time, which opens the pores. This should immediately be followed with an application of Chamberlain's Pain Balm, vigorously rubbed into the skin. This liniment removes all stiffness and soreness and has become a favorite rub down, as it acts promptly and keeps the muscles in excellent condition. For sale by L. L. ### HUGH EMBRY ILL.

Former Christian County Boy's Recovery Doubtful.

News has been received in this city of the illness of Mr. Hugh Embry, who moved with his father, Mr. W. E. Embry, from South Christian to Dade City, Fla., about eight or nine years ago. Mr. Embry has been sick for a year or more and it is thought now that he has consumption and that his recovery is very doubtful.

Mr. Embry is the elder son of his father, and is a very bright and promising young man and has been very successful since his removal from this county. The many friends and relatives of the family in this county regret very much to learn of Mr. Embry's illness.

The Old Reliable Jewelry House

of Hopkinsville is, after all, the best place to get anything in the jewelry line. There's a record behind us, a record of over thirty years; a clean record of satisfied customers, a record of honest dealing, for honest quality, honest prices. It's a record any Jeweler might feel proud of. And when we sell an article we have in mind that we have a record to maintain, and no slipshod methods, no careless workmanship, no lack of quality, is ever allowed to mar the record of the past. But to improve, if possible, this record, is ever our aim, and goods are sold for as low a price as it is possible to sell reliable goods.

It will pay you in the end to deal with the Old Reliable Jeweler.
